For over 30 years, the Lehenbauer family has served the Billings area's landscape, nursery and lawn care needs through their well-respected local firm, Sylvan Nursery. Beginning in spring 2010, that heritage continues with the formation of a new company, Sylvan Landscaping, focused specifically on professional landscaping services for residential and commercial clients. The son of the founder of Sylvan Nursery, Steve Lehenbauer, and his wife Chris will drive this new business.

Sylvan Landscaping will offer clients comprehensive landscape services including design, construction, maintenance, fertilization and pest control, irrigation, tree services and snow removal. The Lehenbauers will launch the business with their loyal base of existing clients from their three decades with Sylvan Nursery. The two plan to grow the business rapidly with additional equipment and personnel. Father Norbert Lehenbauer will continue to lead the retail garden center.

Horticulture runs deep in the family's veins. Both Steve and Chris Lehenbauer are graduates of Montana State University's horticulture program. Steve has worked in the business since he was a boy. He is currently a board director of the Montana Nursery and Landscape Association and has been active in the local Parade of Homes for nearly a decade. He stays up to date on the latest trends and technology through participation in industry groups.

"We see a real opportunity to provide customers with superior service by taking care of every aspect of their landscape needs" said Steve Lehenbauer,

President of Sylvan Landscaping. "From day one, we will have experienced personnel, top-end equipment and the know-how to be able to execute on projects of all sizes." "The same team that has worked with our maintenance customers for years will stay on in the new business, so we'll ready to provide exceptional service and to grow with new customers" he added.

Sylvan Landscaping and Sylvan Nursery will operate from facilities at 1720 Shiloh Road, where new offices and warehouse space have been added for the landscape operation. An expanded in-house team will offer professional advice and design inspiration for both new projects and landscape remodels.
